To R. Vijayendra Rao Esquire
Chief Secretary

Sir

I reluctantly report for the information and orders of Government that my present salary of Rs 350 for Botanical gardens etc, with an allowance of Rs 50 for the Museum, is inadequate to the labour and responsibility attaching to such a charge. I venture to hope, therefore that on due consideration of my claims, the Dewan will be pleased to raise the emol-uments of the combined offices to a pensionable salary of

My dear Sir (27)

As kindly requested by you this morning I have the honor to enclose a memo: on my Service and emoluments in Mysore

Mr Richetts

Joined the service on a five years engagement on 29th January 1874.

Was taken on to the pensionable list 1882, salary being then Rs 300 plus Rs 50 for lectures in Botany. But for nearly two years prior to this the allowance for lectures had been Rs 100. Lectures abolished in 1885 when I was appointed Superintendent of the Museum with an allowance of Rs 50. Fixed salary raised to Rs 350 in May 1887, in accordance with the agreement drawn up by the late Mr. Bunga Charles C.I.E., and since which date my total salary for all duties has been Rs 350 plus an allowance of Rs 50 for the Museum. In addition to the above I have received from the Forest Deptt. for about three years, a special horse allowance of Rs 30 for work done at Hebbal.

When the late Dewan's Proceedings were issued on the subject in 1882, or about ten years ago, my duties were less onerous than they are now

My dear Sir

About this time last year (I have no reference at hand) I addressed you officially through the Chief Secretary, requesting that an increase might be made to my small salary, but as no notice has been taken of

leave entirely for your consideration.
In regard to my
services, and to me, it is unnecessary that I should enter into details that are well known to you.
My whole time is
